Nebraska Scotched!

We have the gratifying news from Washington that the House of Representatives have sent the Nobraska iniquity to the Committee of the whole, by the decisive majority of sixteen votes. This contribes the Snake, if it does not kill it. With so good a beginning there is little reason to doubt that the House will keep the bill in Committee until prepared to kill it finally and effectually. We may thank the potential voice of the Press and People of the Free States for this auspicious result. Had not that voice been raised, in thunder toucs of remonstrance, the iniquity would here been consummated and Slavery legalized in. Neurosea.

The Rescue Case.

The examination of Mr. S. M. Bootn before U. E. the speech of Mr. Booth in the afterneon, after habeas corpus—I understood from that, that Judge Miller took the ground that the State Courts could not interfere by habeas corpus when the Federal Courts were in action. I also understood him to say, that, under the decision of Judge Miller, the state courts could not protect its citizens, but that they were subject to be governed by there are 125 families already located bere, laying out village plats on their farms. The land is pert of the Milltary Reserve of Fort Saeling, and not yet in market; but the claimants are nevertheless selling off their "rights" at $100 to $150 an acro, the bland still belongs to the U.S. Government. There is a very fine Water Power here and, indeed, an admirable location, in all respects, for a thriving town. The inhabitants are temperate and industrious; grog shops scarce; Sunday schools well attended; no ricts, rows, or Sunday dances; no murders and no peopers. The condition of things in St. Paul, on the other hand, is much like that of another city I wot of not a hundred miles from your office, and will be so long as rum rules the place Nevertheless there are many excellent, whole-souled people at St. Paul.

Lam greatly surprised at what I hear of the randility with which this new region is developed. right to interfere by habeas corpus. This produced considerable excitement in the crowd. and around the beautiful lakes, which abound in this Territory. Some 18 miles above here Rum River empties into the Mississippi. It was so called by the Indians in honor of a trader who used to seit them Rum, qualified so largely by the water from this beautiful stream, that it was difficult to tell which was the strongest, the Rum or the River—hence the name Rum River.* Gen. Flevener, who has charge of the Winnebagors and is teaching them agriculture, and who is located at Round Prairie, 150 miles up the Mississippi, told me list week that Whiskey had been retailed to the Indians by dealers here as high to conceil here, a member of the body having lost or pocketed the bill. A License Law, however, has been passed with many stringent provisions, as we have heard it told, is this. The originat Indian name of the stream was Manibou (Spirit.)

As far as I could judge M. Booth's sentiments and the mass of the people in the Asset orgus. As far as I could understand, the object of the meeting was to secure to the people the right of the writ of hadeas corpus already issued by Judge Jenkina, and placed in the hands of Sheriff Page. After the report was made to us, that the Sheriff had made return, that the fugitive was not in his crestout was placed in the hands of Sheriff Page to be served on the Marshal. Cross-examined.—I first went to the Court House about S o'clock; don't know who rang the bell; he was a stranger to me; I think he was a foreigner—an Englishman; I should consider that if the man had been taken out noder those circumstances, as in some cases the government had done, would be clandestine. One object of the committee was that the habes corpus, issued by Judge Jenkine, should be obeyed. We had been told by Mr. Booth, that Marshal Cotton had denied his being there, and we believe him, too. We didn't mean to resist the Fugitive Slave Law, but meant to enforce the sovereign rights of the people to have a hearing under the habeas corpus, and to see that it was executed in the spirit of the constitution. We understood that every man had a right to a hearing under a habeas corpus. Our meeting there was something like a volcanic eruption, caused by a law of necessity. Laughter, living there was something like a volcanic eruption, caused by a law of necessity. I Laughter, living there was done after, was another thing. I stopped there till I saw the fugitive taken off in a wagon, and then I left for the American House.

I was in my yard directly opposite the jail; saw the colored man taken out and drove off; I watched it until it turned the conter of Oneida street; Isaw no one on horsebeck; I didn't distinguish any one; I didn't see Mr. Booth after that; I heard Mr. Booth's remarks on Court House and in the front of the offices.

But I wish to say a few words, at this stage of the examination, in my own defense.
For the first time in my life, I am arraigned before a tribunal, invested with the forms of law, on a charge of crime. The warrant for my arrest charges me—so the legal fiction runs—with "arrightly aiding and abetting" the escape of a human being from bondage.

My answer to that charge is, that it is not true.

My answer to that charge is, that it is not true.

My hatever "aid and comfort" I may have rendered the hunted and battered figitive, it was only lawch "aid and comfort" as the lawa permit, as homenity dictates, and as the plainest precepts of the Christian religion required of me, on peril of my soul. So far, therefore, from having to reproach myself with what I have done, I ought, perhaps, to blame myself for not having done more. Instead of keeping, as I have done, strictly within the letter of the law, perhaps, I ought to have braved the penalty of those who broke ones the iail, and set an example of resistance to open the jail, and set an example of resistance to this Fugitive Law, by siding in the farcible res-cue of Glover. But I knew that human bloodhounds were on this Fugitive Law, by siding in the farcible residence of Glover.

But I knew that human bloodhounds were on my track, ready and eager to pounce on me with all the authority and force of the General Government, and that the Federal Court and the Federal officials, who take so deep an interest in this prosecution, and whose suggestions have been so valuable to the prosecuting Attorney, would rejoice at an opportunity of enforcing the penalty of an infamous law, against one who had done his part to make that law odious to a liberty-loving people. I knew that the Slare Power would rejoice at an occasion which would enable it to silence my press, while the Nebraska I signify was waiting either for an ignoble birth and a premature baptism by faith-breaking godfathers, or a hopeless death and an infamous grave, and so I chose the path of prudence, and grave, and so I chose the path of prudence, and mainteined an outward regard for a law linwardly loalhed and abhorred, and treated as a legal verity what I believe, in my inmost soul, to be a stupendous fraud, as wicked as stupendous, and a nullity before God and Man.

But I am frank to say—and the prosecution may make the most of it—that I sympathize with the rescuers of Glover, and rejoice at hie escape. I rejoice that, in the first attempt of the slave-hunters, to convert our jail into a slave pen, and our citizens into slave-catchers, they have been signally foiled, and that it has been decided, by the spontaneous uprising and sovereign voice of the people, that no human being can be dragged into bendage, from Milwaukee.—And I am bold to say, that, rather than have the great Constitutional rights and safeguarde of the people—the Writ of Habeus Coryms, and the right of Triol by Jury—stricken down by this Fugitive Law, I would preserve the AMAIN'S. May it please the Court: I understand well, and this community understand well, why I have been singled out by the prosecution. It is not because I am specially guilty, or more guilty than bundreds, whom the Slave-catcher's attorney would not think of prosecuting, but because it is desired to make an example of me, and the Slave Power wants me for a victim.—That power wishes to introduce the discipline of the slave plantation among the Editorial fraternity, to silones their voice in behalf of Freedom, and therefore it cracks its lash, or gets the Dist. Attorney and his honorable Court to crack it, about my ears, as one thought to be most in need of such discipline.—My conviction and punishment, it is hoped, will strike terror into the hearts of the people, and compel them to rifle those feelings of humanity, implanted in every human soul, which prompt them to feed the hungry, clothe the naked, hide the outcasts and obey the commands of a mercial God, instead of the edicts of crael and wicked mee.

I have done nothing in this case, which living, I could wish to forget, or, dying, I would wish to blot out of the memory of mankind. Whatever may be the finding of this Court, I stand acquitted in the judgment, in the hearts and consciences of all who love Freedom, and hate oppression—of all who stand for Order, regulated by righteous law—of all who value Republican institutions, and would transmit them pure and free, as a heritage, to their children—of all who scorn the tions, and would transmit them pure and free, as a heritage, to their children—of all who scorn the inosfiably mean and inhuman business of kidnapping and slave-catching—of all who honor manhood and despise base sycophancy and servife fawning to the Slave Power, and of all who would die on the battlefield or on the gibbet, rather than sacrifice their conscience, deny their Maker, and surrender their liberties to the vilest despatism the sun ever shone upon. It was evident to all, that the remarks of Mr. Booth made a deep impression on those present, and it was doubtless the intention of the Court to have stopped the remarks, when the speaker of his own accord finished by leaving the argument with his counsel.]

THIRD DAY === March 23.

The court met this (Thursday) morning when hir. Paine addressed the court for the defence, in a lengthy argument. The principal point we understood to be raised, was that no evidence had understood to be raised, was that no evidence had the court factor of the defent we know little. We have waited in silence to see the result, though we had little faith.—In fact we can use the old vankee proverb. Blessed are they that expect understood to be raised, was that no evidence had been offered and that nothing showing that Glover was a Fugitive, or that he was owing labor and service to Garland in accordance with the laws of Missonri. Mr. Paine was followed by Mr. Sharpstoin for the United States.

The commissioner held Mr. Booth to bail in the sum of $2000 for his appearance at the U.S. Court at Madison. On application of the District Attorney, an order was made by the commissioner, requesting the witnesses for the prosecution to enter into their own recognizance for their appearance at Madison. About 5 P. M., Mr. Booth gave the requisite bail (Dr. E. G. Wunderly becoming his surety), and was discharged from custody of the Marshal.

From that ante saloon and demanded some beer, when re data to Wednesday of last week, the amount of fosed, he used violent language, that he drew out new stock taken in our company is, in Bonds and Mortgages on valuable Real Estate, $145,400. and of hone fide subscriptions, payable by cash by the complainant, and said that no man could instalments. $25,400. Total, in 4½ weeks, Those who have so promptly contributed this mount of material aid, towards the construction of the road, reside at Wyocena, Marcellon, Portage City, Delton Maugh's Mill, Lisbon and in the vicinity of those places. Of course it can not be expected that I have in so short a period canvassed at all thoroughly, so extensive a field, and done all that may be done; nor that I have accomplished so much, single handed; on the contrary, I have received valuable assistance from active, warm friends every where; and must not omit to mention Messrs. Topping, Maughs, Stewart, McCulloch, Pettibones, Pulling, McFarlane, Baker, Rockwell, Bushnell, Hustis and Johnson-some of whom accompanied me at lifferent times from place to place, and others

In every place the general feeling is what the above result indicates; but in Wyocena and Portage City, there seems to be a determination not to be denied a rail road connection with the lake, and they will have it at no distant day; for, if it costs half they are new worth, they know, that the remaining fraction of their properties will, so driving? ment to the interests of the La Crosse and Milwankee road, and of unabated confidence in the wisdom and ability of its board of Directors, and in the management and efficiency of the executive officers of the Company. Portage City upon the Wisconsin River, being central to a widely extended and productive region, is by resition, destined to become one o the most prominent inland towns of Wisconsin; point important for Milwaukee to be in easy mmunication with and, fortunately, the exact Half way house" of our route to La Crosse. That the La Crosse and Milwaukee Rail Road will, immediately on its completion, become one of the best paying roads of the west, I am more and more convinced as I contemplate the prospective wealth, and become better acquainted with the resources of the country. To their own ability to furnish the means to construct the road, Farmers and property holders along the line are thoroughly waking up—the road they must have; and to us they look with confidence for the realization of their wishes-their expectations in this respect, must not be disappointed. I am Gentlemen, as ever.

Your fellow laborer and obedient Servant E. D. CLINTON. Milwaukee, March 23, 1854.

The Land Grant.

The bill granting two millions of acres of land to this State to nid the Valley Road, was laid on the table in the House of Representatives at Washington on the 14th inst, by a resjority of three votes. This we suppose is the same as a defeat of the measure, and it is so considered by its friends.

We have no reason to suppose that this is disastrous to the interests of this city, through it is a disappointment to the R. R. V. U. R. R. Cornhe building of that road has advanced too far to be abandoned. It will be valuable when contains the contains t to be abandoned. It will be valuable when chind pleted to this place, as it ought to have been long ago, and would have been, had it been wise-ly managed, instead of commencing at Madison and Fond du Lac before it was finished to Janes-ville. The bond holders have too deep an interille. The bond howers have too the standard now, even standard now, even est in the road to see it abundanced now, even if the company have no means. But we remember that when the proposel was made for this city to take stock in that Railroad, the president, A. Flyatt Smith, stated that the company had means to build their R. R. to Janesville by the first of July next, even without the aid of the city. If this were true they will do it still, and this is as much as could have been expected had the grant hope obtained.

We are not naturally incredulous, but we have had little confidence in obtaining this land grant. We hope now, that the propte of this city will remember the fable of the larks and the reapers, and take hold of our railroad enterprizes themselves, and ought to have been done long ago.

MILWAUEEE CITY ELECTION .- Byron Kilbourn mitwauere dry Lieution.—byton Ambourn the democratic nominee, was elected Mayor, by 500 majority, over Geo. H. Walker, independent. Mr. Kilbourn probably owes his election, to the fact that he was openly committed against the repeal of the Missouri Compromise.—Appleton Grescent.

Doctors differ. The Fond du Lac Union holds that Mr. Kilbouns owed his election to his decided stand in favor of the Rock River Valley Land one was at liberty to ask questions upon the subject—and that he would answer them as far as he was able. A young lady with much apparent sincerity, remarked that she had a question to ask, though she was not certain that it was a proper question; she would, however, venture to usk it. It was as follows:

"If one hen lays an egg and another sets on it and hatches out a chicken, which hen is the mother of the chicken?"
The lecturer said: "I will answer you in Yankee style, by asking you a question. If a

City Matters. POLICE COURT-March 23.

A colored man named Louis Burr was brought down from jail to be examined on a charge of threatening to break the peace, dc. The comof my stock Agency service, I commence at Delthe complaint the defendant came into complaina knife, opened it and put it close to Mr. Epps face, and refused to leave the shop when ordered take him out, sheriff, constable or any body else, that he kept his knife to protect himself when he could'nt do it with his limbs. On another occa sion defendant came in and took a little girl by the throat, threw her in the chair, and as the wit ness stated threatened to kill ber.

A witness was called for defense who contra dicted the statements that the conduct of the defendant was riotous, but that the defendant behaved orderly. The court required the defendant to give bail n the sum of one hundred and fifty dollars con ditioned to keep the peace, for three months. ARREST FOR FAST DRIVING ON A BRIDGE .- D. G. Power was arrested b; Constable Meloy on complaint of the bridge tender at Spring Street Bridge for having driven factor than a walk over said bridge. Complainant stated-I am bridge tender o Spring Street Bridge in the 4th Ward of this city. I know the defendant Mr. Power; I saw him i a buggy on the bridge between 10 and 11 this forenoon, and another gentleman with him who I don't know; he trotted from the middle of the bridge to the west end of it. He drove faster than a walk. Cross-examined by Deft.-Did you see me than four miles an hour? Witness-I think he was going over 6 miles an hour. Deft.-Did you see the reins in my hand? Witness-No sir.-Deft .- Then how can you say I was driving ?-Witness-I cant swearthat you did drive; I didn't see who had the reins.

This made the case. The court stated that the rdinance under which the suit was brought, had sceived a judicial interpretation, and that he was clearly of the impression that a party merely sitting in a vehicle and not driving, was not liable under ordinance. If it should receive any other onstruction, then passengers in a stage or other conveyance, might be liable, if the conveyance vers driven faster than a walk. Defendant found not guilty.

The question was also suggested by the defen dant, whether the bridge was yet the property of the city as it was not yet accepted, and if not the city property, could they prosecute him. (A bystander suggested that it was rather hard for the new City Attorney in his first case to be floored by a speculator.)

HANDSOME STORE.—We saw yesterday the plan nd elevation for the new store which Mack Brothers are about constructing on East Water Street, just above Heide's Block. The edifice is to be four stories high, fronting 20 feet on East Water Street and 96 feet deep. The material is to be the best quality of Milwaukee pressed brick, and the caps, sills &c, are to be iron castings from Decker & Saville's Foundry. The clovation is exceedingly rich and tasteful, and the store will be one of the handsomest ornaments of East Water Street. The plans &c. were furnished by Otto Schwarz, architect, Exchange

Rint in New Haven-free Ann Ellied, and Others Wounded. [From the New Haven Journal March, 18.]

Our Coy was disgraced last evening by a row and fire, which resulted in the death of an Irishman named Partick O'Neil, the particulars of which, as we have been informed by Capt. Bisare as follows: edi are as follows:

It never a that a number of students, who attended Homan's Atherward last evening, were followed from the Exchange, after the performance we gover, by a cound of mer and boys, who, on account of a disturbance that occurred among account of a disturbance that occurred among them the night previous, were exceptrated at the colleg ions and took the occasion to vent their spite by hootings and hissings, and the throwing of atones. The crowd proceeded up Chapelstonia, for an a Temple, when a general fight with stones and brickbats ensued. Capt. Bissell, who was on the spot with his assistants, did all in his power to quell the riot, but had not a sufficient force to accomplish his purpose.

During the nucleu a number of pistol shots were fired, meet of which were discharged in the air, and without doing injury to any person. Several were hit with stones and other missiles, but no one was sectionally hut, until the crowd but no one was seriously hurt, until the crowd printed in mant of the bookstore of Mr. L. W. Fach, when C. Neil was seen to etagger and fall upon the the parement. He was picked up, and numediately contered to the police office, where he expired in a few moments. Drs. Knight, and Jewest were called in, and, upon an examination, found that the deceased had been stabbed in or can the least.

It is not yet known by whom the murder was consulted, and no arrests had been made up to committed, and no arrests had been made up to it o'clock.

Well, we understand, was arrested on Thursons evening for being concerned in the disturbance which occurred at that time, and after being warned by the officere, and making promises for the future, was discharged from custody; and early last evening he was again spoken to, and advised to go home, but he remained, and has this come to an awful end.

This bloody affair created a great excitement in the street, and it was feared for a time that it would lead to a more serious difficulty. Several church bells ring an alarm, and a large crowd of people were gathered about the corners; but the police, aided by a large number of law-abiding and peaceable citizens, succeeded in quelling the distantance, and when we went to press, peace and quit were apparently restored. and quit were apparently restored.

TREADLE EXCITENENT - CHIMNEYING A ROU-rest.—About nine o'clock on Sinday night, a party in front of Gibs' intel, discovered as they appared, the head of a man projecting from the chiester of a house opposite. To be certain of the matter, they changed their position, and lo! the capant in question was not to be discerned. All doubt instantly vanished as to the fact, and the capant in question was not to be discerned. All doubt instandly vanished as to the fact, and visious of robbery, arison, morder, slaughtered adults and mangled juveniles, flitted across their excited brains. The occupants of the house were only apprised of the slarming state of things, and of course, number all shocks of stundry increase systems succeeded. Arrangements were immediately perfected for the capture of the daring robber, and volunteers were stationed at regular distances, to grasp him if he attempted to escape. Meanwhile a concourse of a hundred persons were assembled along Baltimore street, some of whom clutched their revolvers, others swore terribay and hooked vergeance, while all were actuated with one big desire, one tremendous determination to capture the man in the chimnery. One of the party, "armed to the teeth," accorded to the roof, where his appearance was greeted with entinusiastic shouts from the crowd below. A laider was speedily placed against the chimney, and up he mounted, nothing daunted, to the very "muzzle of the chimney," where the fee of the law and man was seen. The excitement tellow was now immense, as the robber's lead was still visible from the spot where it was first discovered. The bold defender of the law, the champon of the ascended ladder, with a nuge hickory deat a heavy blow at that same lead, which, as he mounted the last round of the lander, intruded upon his vision. A terrible anash foll-wed, such as one sometimes hears in nead, which, as he mounted the last round of the indder, intruded upon his vision. A terrible smash followed, such as one sometimes hears in the crockery when earthenware is broken. A laugh, loud and long, arose from beneath, for the whole matter was explained by that desperate blow, an earthen pot such as is usually placed on top of chimneys, was mistaken for a human head. It is nearliest in say that the volunter "corres" It is needless to say that the volunteer "corps" was speedily dishanded, and that the discovery acted powerfully in the sudden dispersion of the most active among them.—Baltimore Times.

First:—About 11 o'clock on the night of the 11th inst. the store of Mr. As. Saxron, of Argyle, Lawyette county, Wis., with all the goods, books and papers, was destroyed by fire. The loss was about $3,000, with no insurance, the insurance policy having expired a few days previous, and had not been renewed. The cause of the fire is naknown. BUFFALO EAGLEIRON WORKSEO. Propose to pay Particular attention to Architectural From Work.

W E are prepared to Manufacture IRON FRONTS for Stores and Public Buildings, with the Patent Fire Proof Rolling Shutters.

These Shutters are the same that are now so generally used in New York, and may be put in any Window. Small or Large, and if arranged before executed of the building, may be used without in the least affecting the style of Architecture. They make the only perfect Fire Proof Shutters, and do not appear to the eye when rolled up. When desired we will furnish the Plan for Store Proofs, (with or without the Patent Shutter), with estimate for the Cost of the work Snikhed ready for delivery. To our Western friends we think this arrangement will be desirable, for they thus are enabled to know without experiment what the Front Shutters are used we will furnish a man to superiment at the execution of the Front and the setting of the Shutter. io superintens the entitle of the Shutter.

DR. URBAN'S ANTI-BACCHANALIAN ELIXIR: A Safe and Sure Remedy for the Cure of INTEMPERANCE.

It is not in the least injurious to the system. It is pleasant to the taste, and will cure the hardest cases of intemporance. We corrant it, in all cases, if taken according to directions. It destroys the dears for all nucleut spirits when attictly taken according to directions, and will restorn the individual to the same state of solviety in which be was before he ever drank a drop of the ardon; and he will not have the least dears for intoxicating drales.

Intemperance is a disease; and as such the greater the excess in draking, the more speedly is the disease developed, and to such the Fixer is presented as the belin of disead—the oil of consolation, peace and perfect restoration. irop of ardent spirits; and when intemperature has assumed this diseased farm, reason is measurably dethroned, the will to a certain extent becomes ungovernable, until often glast many have passed the bennia of sober rectaint; and chough they may desire, in their sober moments, to shandon the use of that which is so rapidly proving their banch, they cannot, unalled, and no aid has ever been tendered such, with success, until the discovery of Pr. Urban's never of falling Anti-Bacchanalian Eliser; since which time nous are left without excuse, as the mean necessary to destroy the taste, and again, enthrone reason, bringing the will interpret to the subjection, by extracting the potsonous sting and ampiration of the adder, are placed within every man's reason; to keep therefore, who horeafter fill the gard of the drutchard must do so by choice, and not of necessity—it maters act how hear it you may now be.

As the Elikir is a most powerful purifyer of the blood, the sort of ail diseases; it has been used with great success, and is highly recommended in cases of Delirium Tremens, Despersit, Epilepsy, Neuralgia, Liver Complaints, General Debuilty, tice, and all kinds of Fevers. It is the best after the Enover.

Debuitty, Thes, and an analysis of the thorward of the known.

2.37 The Anti-Bacchanalian is nearly put up and labeled, with full directions accompanying each bottle. Price 32 per bottle. On the receipt of the above sum it will be sent, free of charge, to any part of the United States. All tetras to be propaid. To be had from all the principal Druggists in the United States.

Br. Urban's Vegetable Fever and The only sure remedy over the conformal of thills and Fever, an marranted to cure, in all cases, if taken according to directions. aeronic to cure, in all costs, if chien according to directions.

It cures, when taken seconding to directions, in TWENTY MINUTES, leaving no lever after the Chill; very seldom requiring more than ONE DOE to make a PREMANIST CURE. A great number of cases, from two to five years steading, have been CURED with the PIRST DOES, and the Chill has never, as yet, returned. The beauty of this medicine is, that it stops the Chill in TWENTY MINUTES, or less, and the patient will be entirely clear from Fever after the Chill, which is not the case when any other medicine is used. It has superseeded all other preparations wherever it has been introduced.

Read what the Editors of the Lunisville Democrat any from their own observation:

"Dr Urban's medicine for the cure of chills and fever has efficied some wonderful cures in our own midst. A young man who has resided for several years in Louisians, reached New Albuny a few weeks since, weak and emaciated—liferally worn out physically, with long continued chills and fever. He made a stort slay at the house of Judge Smith, where his old disease continued with no less severity than at home in Louisians. Having characted almost every remely known to the medical profession, he procured a box of De. Urban's eclebrated medicine, and after taking two powders was entirely refused and restored to health. He has been well cure since is go his health has not een as good for several years, and is now has regaining his former vigor and the rosy checks he was wont to very Depois St Third St., between Main and Market, Louisville K., wholesale and retail.
